Location: Remote work
Website: <https://talentsingames.com/>

Description

Our client – an international game development company that strives to introduce the joy of core gaming experiences to casual players.

They are looking for a strong Stream Product Owner to join the team and work on Start (FTUE) for our flagship project – the mobile RPG battler.

What you'll do:

- Own the full early player journey — from the first launch to conversion into core loops. Define and execute the vision for the Start (FTUE) stream, shaping the onboarding flow, testing hypotheses, and ensuring a smooth, engaging “from ad to habit” experience.
- Drive business growth through data-informed decisions: owning activation, retention, and conversion metrics.
- Lead a cross-functional team of game designers, analysts, developers — building clear priorities, transparent processes, and a creative, high-energy environment.
- Partner closely with UA, creative, and other product streams to ensure a consistent player experience and a strong connection between marketing, onboarding, and long-term engagement.

What the company expects:

- Strong gaming experience and love for the games.
- Experience in midcore or mixed genres.
- Proven track record of successful launches (in numbers).
- Ability to develop a vision and implement a strategy.
- Experience managing a team of diverse skill sets.
- Product orientation (focus on user experience).
- Experience making decisions and taking responsibility for them.

What the company offers:

- Healthcare – Medical care program (including dental service) or medical care compensation are available for you wherever you wish to work. The basic medical care program is also available for your family members if you choose to work from official locations – Cyprus, Armenia, and Kazakhstan.
  - Work, life, and balance – they offer a fair amount of paid vacation days and sick leave. You can work at one of our comfortable offices in official locations or from home.
  - Sports – You can choose various sports activities like yoga, football, and volleyball in the official locations.
  - Relocation support
    - A relocation package is available for you if you decide to join us in one of the official locations
  - Skills improvement
    - Let's learn languages: you can visit online English language courses. Greek and Armenian language lessons are available for everyone who works in Cyprus or Armenia.
- Work format – Remotely or in one of the company's offices in Armenia, Cyprus and Kazakhstan.
